

Bucket List Holidays To Start Planning Now

KWANDE PRIVATE GAME RESERVE

Part of the enjoyment of a holiday is the planning process. So, while immediate trips might be on pause, there's still enjoyment to be found in planning the trip of a lifetime. From gorilla treks and the getting up close to the Big Five, to under-the-stars sleepouts and BBQs, a safari combines adventure and relaxation. With options for both families and couples, here's where to get started...

FOR A BESPOKE FAMILY HOLIDAY: Stubborn Mule, Tanzania

Stubborn Mule puts together bespoke dream holidays for families, blending beach life with a safari adventure in Tanzania. The lodges are suitable for young children who don't fancy spend all day in a 4x4, while decks overlooking water holes are home to plenty of wildlife. Children can take part in archery sessions with the bushmen, a cycling tour through banana plantations, or Masai painting classes. The staff at Stubborn Mule's lodges are also happy to take younger guests on animal tracking adventures, leaving parents with a free afternoon to relax and take in the stunning surroundings. For families looking to split their time, Stubborn Mule will also organise a few nights in neighbouring Zanzibar, home to pristine beaches and crystal clear waters, where children can learn to snorkel.

FOR LEAVING NO FOOTPRINTS: Noka Camp, Lepogo Lodges, South Africa

Not for profit safari group, Lepogo Lodges, has opened its first site in South Africa's Limpopo Province. Set within the 50,000 hectare Lapalala Wilderness Reserve, this camp shares its home with the infamous Big Five. Noka is a stunning cliff top property with views overlooking the winding Palala River. Featuring a sky bed for nights spent sleeping on the deck, there's also a private pool, a sunken bath, spa treatments and yoga sessions, as well as a locally sourced menu. There are also myriad activities for children on offer, including pottery making, game drives and treasure hunts.
